

Tackling Anti-Social Behaviour

Free training event

for local residents, community activists, volunteers, front-line staff and anyone else involved in dealing with and/or tackling anti-social behaviour.

"Do you want to know more about who you can contact about tackling anti-social behaviour and the tools and powers available?"

"Do you want to see how anti-social behaviour is being tackled in Southend?"

This free event will offer practical advice to attendees on what can be done and how you can work together to tackle neighbourhood anti-social behaviour issues. It will pass on lessons from those who have succeeded in bringing about change through the power of collective action.
